Georgia Continuing Education Requirements

Below are details about continuing education and license renewal in Georgia. You can skip to your profession by selecting it from the drop down list above.

Georgia might be well known for its sweet peaches, but did you also know that it's the largest state east of the Mississippi River? It's vast landscapes and southern hospitality make it a desirable place to live for many people, including roughly 69,000 Registered Nurses (<http://www.georgiahealthnews.com/2017/01/georgia-nurses-problem-worse/>).

The Georgia Board of Nursing was created on August 22, 1907 (<https://sos.ga.gov/PLB/acrobat/Forms/38%20Reference%20-%20History%20of%20the%20Georgia%20Board%20of%20Nursing.pdf>), when the Georgia General Assembly passed legislation to create the organization. Once the board was created, its first task was to develop regulations for the ever-growing field of registered professional nurses and overseeing the education programs for registered nurses. By September of that same year, the first members of the board were appointed, and a month later, the first meeting was held for the Georgia Board of Nursing. Over a century later from its conception, the current board consists of members that are appointed by the Governor and are responsible for the continuation of regulating registered and practical nurses.

While many states worry about a future of nursing shortages, Georgia, on the other hand, is currently experiencing a shortage of nursing professionals (<https://www.augustachronicle.com/news/20190711/nursing-workforce-summit-at-au-addresses-statewide-nursing-shortage>) throughout the state. Although several factors play a role in the shortage, the main issues stem from a large portion of registered nurses soon to retire and the increasing demand for help in nursing facilities as more citizens retire. If you're looking to relocate, consider moving to Georgia where the peaches are sweet and chances of finding a nursing job are even sweeter.
